BRIGHT PROSPECTS FOR OAHU LARGE CROP IN SIGHT

The annual meeting of the Oahu Sugar Co., Ltd., was held this afternoon in the offices of Hackfeld & Co. The officers of last year were re-elected, with the exception of H. A. Isenberg, whose place during eight months' absence in Europe will be filled by W. P. Pfenhauer. The report of Treasurer H. A. Isenberg has the following statement of finances: "Profit and loss account, closing with a balance of receipts over disbursements of $218,679.09, after writing off the amount of $94,061.00 as depreciations. The account shows that the net profit of the company for the year 1904 amounted to $226,516.86, or more than sufficient to justify the payment of 6 per cent dividend on the capital stock, notwithstanding the fact that the company's debt to its agents could not be reduced owing to the unexpected large shortage of the crop.

The report of Manager E. K. Bull says that grinding on the 1905 crop began December 7th, 1904, on the following areas: Plant cane, 1,201 acres; long artoon, 2,732; short ratoon, 476, a total of 4,399 with an estimated yield of 30,000 tons of sugar.

Of the crop of 1906 he says: "There are 3,758 acres, divided as follows: Plant cane, 435.5; long ratoon, 2656.5; short ratoon, 684.

Gray Haired Turtle EXCITES SYMPATHY Of the Waterfront

A self-constituted Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals created a temporary excitement in what otherwise would have been a very quiet morning along the waterfront today. A native fisherman caught a splendid specimen of a sea turtle at Pearl Harbor and brought it to town this morning. It was one of the biggest things of its kind ever seen in Honolulu. The Hawaiian was immediately surrounded by a crowd of waterfront habitués, including Chinese, Japanese and Hawaiian stevedores, deep sea and coasting sailors, a steamship company's president, numerous custom house brokers and what not besides. The native wanted to make his way with his turtle to some local hotel but the Chinese entered a strong objection to the proposed transformation of the crustacean into steaks and soup. They, then and there, formed a hui and made up the five dollars demanded by the fisherman for the turtle, among themselves, and acquired the animal. Sea lawyers freely offered advice to the members of the hui, setting forth the pecuniary benefits which will be theirs by taking the turtle to the Walkiki aquarium or the Kaimuki zoo, but the Chinks would have none of it. Their sympathies for a suffering animal had been aroused and they were firm in their intention of giving it its liberty. They carried it to the Irrigard wharf in the presence of a large crowd and threw it in the harbor, where the turtle made a quick dive for the bottom. It was a 250-pound animal and Captain Larsen of the Sailor's Union and Frank Harvey shed tears of regret at the loss of such a toothsome morsel.

The advantage of keeping negatives where they may be readily located is plain to all camera users. The Rochester negative safe provides a safe receptacle for 50 negatives. The safe is well made and covered with grain leather. Provided with drop door in front, with a memorandum tablet corresponding to the number of shelves within. This method easily locates the desired negative as well as to keep it safe and free from dust. Honolulu Photo Supply Co., Fort street.

A French scientist has made some interesting observations as to the love of different wild animals for the sea. The polar bear, he says, is the only one that takes to the sea and is quite jolly when aboard ship. All others violently resent a trip on water, and vociferously give vent to their feelings until seasickness brings silence.
